

ALEXANDRIA.

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 20.

THE REPUBLICAN office seekers in Wash ington, from Virginia, of both or all factions of their party, are disgusted and mad at the treatment they have received from the administration, which has included neither offices nor promises, and indeed but scant courtesy. The outspoken ones among them are reported as saying there would have been a good chance of carrying the State next fall, if the offices had been properly distributed, but that that chance will be clean gone forever unless Harrison shall soon change his tune, and that if he shall not, he will have to depend on the protec tion democrats, to whom he is talking about giving the offices, for effective republican work hereafter. Some of them it is reported go so far as to say that their two representatives in Congress should combine with the other south ra representatives in that body, and demand the recognition of south ern republicans by the administration on pain of voting with the democra's at the organization of the next House of Representatives. They also say that ex-Congrassman John R. Brown of the Danville district should not have abandoned his contest for the doorkeepership of the next House, as all the southern republicans in the House would have stuck by him, and compelled his election or that of a democrat. It must not be forgotten that Mr. John Wise said "southern republicans are apostates for the price of their apostacy."

JUDGE HARRIS, in his speech announcing himself a candidate for the democratic nomination for Governor, was right when he said that in the coming campaign the demo cratic writers and speakers should not be restricted by any motives of so called policy from discussing any and every public ques tion, including the most prominent of all, the tariff, and should discuss them ad libitum. But the Judge was just as wrong when he said the State debt is settled as far as possible; for if he shall read the news papers of his own State he will see that so far is the debt from being settled, that the suits of the State against her citizens who offer her coupons in payment of their taxes, and the suits of her citizens against her for levying after a tender of such coupons, are increasing; that those who tender coupons are being sued three or four times for the same tax bill, for the avowed purpose of increasing the costs; and that while rich people are enabled to pay their taxes in the depreciated coupons because they have the bonds from which the coupons were cut poor people are compelled to pay theirs in good money. Why, the debt is more unsettled than ever, and, what's more, the people of Virginia are becoming tired of the in instice and injury its unsettled condition inflicts upon them, and the wise ones among them are demanding that it be settled as soon as practicable.

TWELVE DAYS have elapsed since the thip City of Chester "sighted the ship Dan mark in a sinking condition, with no signs of life on board." The people on the latter ship when she salled numbered nearly seven hundred. Some men are endowed with great vitality, and as all the forward part of the Danmark was above water when seen, it is passing strange that, unless she had been descried, some of her passengers or crew were not still alive when she was sighted by the Chester. The questions naturally suggested are, how close the Chester approached the Danmark? and whether close enough to see if there were any signs of life on b and or not? The Chester's print ed account of nor sighting the Danmark is very unsatisfactory.

THE WISER number of the Virginians who have the real interests of their State at heart hope that Mr. Royall will make an active and vigorous fight for the democratic nomination for a seat in the next legislature from the call al city of Virginia, as an open and avowed debt paying candidate. They also hope that he may be successful. Richmond has not "shown up" well during recent years, but a good, square debt paying democratic victory there would do a great deal toward offsetting some of her delinquences, and would also have a good effect throughout the whole State, and besides, help Virginia's credit abroad.

THE CHRISTIAN Church to-morrow will celebrate the festival of Christ's resurrection from the dead, the Jewish Church, that of the Passover. But long before either church was organized the day took its name from the Goddess of Light or Spring, in whose honor a festival was celebrated. The revived life of nature apparent at this season s imulates the hope of man, that he, too, will have a revived life when his troubles here

THE centennial of Washington's inauguration will be celebrated in Chicago as well as in New York. Among the speakers on the occasion in the former city. #### From Washington.

[ special Correspondence of the Alexa. GAZETTA] WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20, 1889.

Mr. Park Agnew, the republican candidate for Congress in the Alexandria district, had an interview with the Postmaster General yesterday in reference to some of the postoffices in his district, but was informed would not be resumed until further orders from the White House. At the Postoffice Department to day it was given out that there was no intimation, so far, of an early resumption of the changes that were going on so brashly by Mr. Clarkson, until stopped by the President till he can decide to which to ion of the party in Virginia the post offices in that State shall be given. It is said the charges the two fections have brought against each other have induced the President to believe there is very little good in Virginia republicans, and to entertain the idea that for the credit of the party he had better let the democratic incumbents remain in office until he can find republicans of enough intelligence and standing among their neighbors to warrant him in giving them offices.

Senator Riddleberger is still here and so are Messrs. Blair, Allen, McCaull and other ex Virginia democrats who followed General Mahone iuto the republican party. Senator Riddleberger has proposed to both factions of his party that if they will agree to bury the hatchet and come to some agreement so that the federal offices in the State may be filled by republicans, he will bind himself to make one hundred speeches in the next State campaigu, one in every county in the State. Neither faction, however, would ac cept his proposition.

Among the Virginia republicans in the city to-day is Mr. Murat Willis, of Rappahannock county. He says one of his sons is an applicant for the place of U. S. attorney eastern district of Virginia, and another for deputy internal revenue collector for his county, and that he thinks they will be successful. Mr. Willis is one of the many be successful. relatives the President has in Virginia.

Virginia republicans here to-day say that General Mahone will call upon the Presi dent next week and have a long interview with him on the subject of Virginia affairs The General's friends do not say the call will be made by invitation, but intimate that it will be, by saying that he has too high an opinion of himself to call without one. His enemies in his own party, however, say he has found out that he would wait until his corns dropped out before he would be invited to call, and that having determined to go home next week, he has decided to go to the White House and see definitely on what footing he stands with the administration. Langston has seen the President twice lately and has told him things about the General that were not calculated to make him look more favorably upon the great readjuster. Messrs. and Brady have heard of the General's proposed call upon Mr. Harrison, and will be here on Monday next to spike his gurs.

A gentleman from Birmingham, Alabama, here to-day says the movement to add respectability to the republican party in that Etite by excluding the negroes from office, recently started in his town, has already come to a stand still, as the negro preachers there have taken their stand against ir, and that the silly attempt is a dead failure.

People from Philadelphia here to-day say that Postm ster General Wanamaker is interested in the firm of Wansmaker & Brown, of that city who have recently sent out circulars to the 4th class postmasters asking them to selicit orders for

The early removal of democratic U.S. marshals and district attorneys in the Southern States, and the appointment of ultra republicans in this places, is looked upon by democrats from those States now here as indicative of an attempt at fed-eral interference in these States at the next elec-tion, and as sadly at variance with the Presi-dent's profe sed admiration for civil service re-form and his expressed views on the Southern question.

CAME TO LIFE IN HIS COFFIN .- The resurrection of Mack Francis, one of the negroes who were hanged last Wednesday, was reported in Lebanon early yesterday morning, and passed in rapid succession until it was in the mouths of thousands of people, and acknowledged to be a most remarkable incident. It will be remembered by those who read an account of the hanging that Francis' neck was not broken, but that he died of strangulation, struggling and groaning piteously for a long time. He was final ly cut down and put into the coffia immediately and placed in a wagon and started for the upper country. It seems from the report that only the circulation had stopped and the jolting of the wagon over the road had considerable effect upon the organs, causing a reaction to take place within a very short time. Within the course of the evening the negro had obtained strength enough to make a miserable noise in the coffin, when the several negroes who had charge of the wagon abandoned their post and fied. The incredib e report was made and some braver person credible report was made and some braver person advanced to the spot, and on opening the cothin found a ghastly apparition half turned. It is supposed that the body was then placed in the hands of a physician, who charged it with electricity, thus effecting a complete reaction and restoring the negro to perfect activity. The matter has been kept a secret so far as possible, for fear he would be brought a second time into the custody of the law. His whereabouts are not known, but it is thought he will make a crep in De Kalb county.—Nashrille American.

NEW YORK, April 20 .- The steamer Mis scuri, from London for this port, is eight days overdue. Her non arrival is attribu ted to the belief that she has picked up the Sandy Hook lightship in a little over six 700 passengers and crew of the abandoned steamer Danmark and has taken them to the nearest port, the Azore Islands. The she picked up the Danmark's passengers would make for the nearest port, as her stick of provisions would soon become exhausted. She left London with the Lord O'Neill, a slower ship. The O'Neill reached this port April 12 and reported very moderate weather throughout the entire passage. Thus it will be seen that the Mis souri is not delayed through stress of weath er. Under ordinary circumstances she should have arrived two days before the O'Neill.

At a regular meeting of Oriental Lodge, No. 6, Knights of Pythias, held in their hall Friday evening, April 19th, 1889, the following was Whereas an all wise Providence has, in His wisdom, bereft us of our late brother, Charles Ed-ward Stuart, our Chancellor Commander, who died on the 16th of April, 1859; and while we bow with reverence and humility to the will of Him who does all things well, yet when the hand of affection is called upon to portray the life of some brother, there involuntarily springs up comotions of sorrow and joy. He was highly esteemed for his ability, knightly attainments and character. But a young man, he was called to fill successively many offices of importance in and out of the lodge. As a citizen he was public-spirited and ever ready for every good word and work. He loved his native State, Virginia, with an un'altering love and gloried in the greatness. an un'altering love, and gloried in the greatness, integrity and honor which her illustrious sons had conferred upon her by their achievements in peace, and in war in the days past.
